DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-14, drawn to a method for suppressing accelerated repopulation of cancer cells during radiation therapy by administering a nucleic acid encoding a growth factor receptor of Group II, classified in class 424, subclass 155.1.
- II. Claims 15-18, drawn to a therapeutic agent comprising an expressible nucleic acid molecule encoding a mutant epidermal growth factor receptor and carrier, classified in class 514, subclass 44.
- III. Claims 19-32, drawn to a method for radiosensitizing cancer cells with the compound of Group II, classified in class 424, subclass 1.73.

Inventions of Group II and of Groups I and III are related as product and process of use.

The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of Group II can be used alternatively in the method of Group I or Group III.

Inventions of Group I and Group III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different functions and different effects. The function of Group I is overcoming the phenomenon of accelerated repopulation and the function of Group III is sensitizing cancer cells generally to radiation exposure. Group III may be accomplished without affecting the phenomenon required to be addressed in Group I, which is an actual acceleration in response to radiation. General sensitization need not address said phenomenon.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Groups II or III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. To search the three inventions instantly claimed would indeed impose an undue burden upon the examiner in charge of the instant application.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
